What you need to do

1. Call 1-800-347-0318 to activate your new card
 - Activate your new card immediately to ensure uninterrupted use.
 - If you have additional designs, you will receive them separately.
 - Additional cards will need to be activated when you receive them.

2. Your current card will be deactivated
 - Your current card will be deactivated the day you call to activate your new card. Even if you don't, it will be deactivated for your protection on 03/12/2013, regardless of the expiration date.
 - Destroy your current card immediately.

3. Update your account information at merchants

- If you pay bills automatically with your Discover card, you'll want to contact those businesses immediately to update your account information.
- We also recommend updating your information at any merchant websites where you have stored your Discover account information.

Why you're getting a new card

We have been advised that your current Discover card account information may have been compromised. This incident did not involve any Discover card systems, and there is no evidence that an unauthorized individual is using this account number. To reduce the possibility of fraud occurring on your account, we are issuing you a new card.

For the security of your account, we replaced the security codes on the back of your card without changing your account number.

Discover is committed to the security of your account, and we are proactively monitoring it for unusual activity. Remember, with our $0 Fraud Liability Guarantee, you are never responsible for unauthorized charges on your Discover card account.

As a cardmember, you're always protected against fraud

Use your Discover® card with confidence

You may obtain a copy of your credit report from the major credit reporting agencies (Equifax, Experian, TransUnion, and Innovis). You are entitled to a free copy of your credit report from each of these agencies every 12 months and can order the reports by calling 1-877-322-8228 or contacting the agency directly.

The credit reporting agencies can assist you if you find any inaccurate information on your credit report and provide details about fraud alerts and security freezes.
